

CAYLOU

Are you an active family that enjoys staying busy, being present, and the outdoors? Caylou would be a perfect addition for your family then! He is a very energetic 12-year-old boy, and he enjoys being outside riding bike, playing basketball, and going for walks. Caylou is optimistic and typically has a smile on his face even if he isn't having the best day. He is not shy and loves talking to people and making them laugh. Caylou is passionate about being creative and playing with trains, cars, Lego's, and any other building tools. He also enjoys playing video games, especially Sonic. He is in the 4th grade and enjoys going to school. Caylou is very inquisitive and likes to ask questions to get to know what is going on around him.

The team believes that Caylou would do best with a two-parent household that is able to provide structure, routine, and stability. Caylou would do best being the only child in the home to focus on his needs, but the team will consider siblings that are not the same age. It is important for Caylou to have a loving forever family that will be patient with his needs.
